

Web Deployment

By Daravy DeRouen

Web deployment is taking code that I planned, designed, built, and making it accessible to outside of my machine. This includes hosting my code on another machine and making it available to others.

